Information, Communication, and Technology (ICT) Unit

Information, Communication, and Technology (ICT) Unit of the institute is well equipped with state-of-the-art ICT resources and provide an effective ICT services to the academic and administrative activities of the Institute. The unit manages the information technology infrastructure to provide IT services; the ICT division evaluates and installs the necessary hardware and software to keep the network functioning properly.

The Institute has a robust Data Centre comprising network-attached to the server to enable storing and disseminating demographic datasets. The Data Centre currently has all relevant datasets such as census, various rounds of large-scale surveys conducted by IIPS, which can be directly accessed by IIPS users. Through a web portal, online databases of surveys by IIPS are also disseminated to the registered users.

The ICT unit has many prominent features including a wired (Ethernet) and wireless (WiFi) network which is accessible to the faculty, staff, students and visitors. The network has a layered architecture consisting of Security, Core, Distribution and Access layer. The local area network is built using Gigabyte fibre optic backbone and offers 100 /1000 Mbps desktop connectivity. The wired network consists of nearly 250 network attached computers that provide 1 Gigabit network jacks. The network is constantly being upgraded, monitored and maintained to provide a high level of service. The wireless network is based on the 802.11 b/g (WiFi) standard and is constantly expanding to provide better coverage throughout the campus.

To monitor and protect the institute networks, the security policies have been implemented in the institute and also promote information security awareness among students, faculty, and staff. The purpose of the security policy is to minimize risk associated with internet and email services, and defines controls against the threats of unauthorized access, theft of information and malicious disruption of services. To mitigate such risk, Periphery network security is implemented using Firewalls and UTM devices. These devices are configured with the best recommended policies and are capable of handling , intrusion detection, intrusion prevention , content filtering , application filtering , spam filtering , antivirus and malware detection and filtering these devices are also used for identity based network access control. Network utilize the campus Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol(DHCP) servers to obtain an address (Wired fixed addresses are reserved; roaming and wireless addresses are dynamically assigned.)

The server or rack of servers is housed in a secured facility, and escorted access is provided. ICT provides hosting services in a secure, centrally managed environment for Demographic Datasets, e-Governance applications and Learning Management System (Moodle). Servers are connected with the backup utilities. The Datasets, eGovernance records and files are stored in the servers placed in Data Centre (DC) and Disaster Recovery (DR) site. In addition to this, all other critical infrastructure components such as provision for power backup, fire alarm have also been made.

The institute has computer Labs outfitted with with high end personal computers and statistical software, such as IBM SPSS Version 26, STATA Version 16, SAS 9.4, ArcGIS Pro 2.x, Endnote X7, ATLAS.ti, and NVIVO required to analyse demographic datasets are installed with a multiuser license. The unit have JAWS & Kurzweil-1000 for visually impaired users. In addition, important Open Source Software such as R, CPro, MORTPAK, OpenOffice, Firefox have also been installed. The computer labs are used for research data analysis and conducting computer classes for various courses. The ICT unit of the institute creates, maintains, and updates information on the institute's website & Social media account regularly. The webmaster and professionals in the unit design the website's layout, write the programming code, and test usability of the programs. The unit provides webmail service, enabling its users to access mailbox from anywhere. The unit also provides technical support to the eGovernance (eOffice) application, Video Conferencing tools viz. Skype, Microsoft Teams and Webex (Cisco). Also provides technical supports and training to conduct online classes, short-term training programs, workshops, seminars, and other such events online. The Moodle, a learning management system, is also supporting by the unit. A complaint management portal/helpdesk is maintained where the individual user can register the complaint and can track the resolution status. IIPS strives hard to reduce the carbon footprint. Most of the administrative file movement handled through the eGovernance application.

Library and Information Sciences

The IIPS is the only Institute in the world completely devoted to teaching and research in the population-related areas.

- To collect, organize, and disseminate demographic information on the population of India and other countries worldwide.
- To undertake and provide for the publication of journals and research papers, books as well as to establish and maintain libraries and information services in furtherance of the objectives of the Society.

The IIPS library is well-known to the scholars for its information resources. The library has the best combination of printed, online and digital resources in its collection.

The capacity of the library 150 students. It is fully automated in the year 1997 and it is having a seating capacity of 150 students. The Library is located in two floors with natural ventilation. The total area of the library is 11890 sq. ft.

The library has digitised Indian census volumes published during 1872–2011, and these volumes are available via remote access to the users. It has contained all the publications of the United Nations, and the World Bank published on Population Studies and relevant topics.

The IIPS Library is having adequate number of computers for innovative in practices to promote resources and services to its users which have been duly recognized as one of the top most library in the world in the field of demography.

The library is integrated with SLIM21 software. The online catalogue, web OPAC is the most accessed tool amongst all services. It is user friendly to browse the documents.

IIPS library is having institutional repository for archiving faculty publications, research reports, annual reports, Ph.D thesis, M.Phil dissertations, seminar papers etc.

The library is having rich collection journals and online databases. The library is providing remote access services to more than 23 e-resources and online databases. Prominent among them are Science direct (Social Science Collection), JSTOR, Scopus, India Stat.com, OECD United Nations iLibrary, ProQuest ETDs, EPWRF database, Economic & Political Weekly, Springer online (Pick and Choose model), Oxford online (Pick and Choose model), , Routledge online (Pick and Choose model), Sage online (Pick and Choose model) etc.

The library is providing e-book facility to its users through remote access.

Library provides research support services through innovative services like Current Awareness Service, Article alert, Document delivery, Reference service etc.

The IIPS library is using URKUND software for Plagiarism detection which was provided by the UGC-INFLIBNET.

2024 Renewal Proposal for Online Journals Policy Collection

Dear Sir,

Greetings from Oxford University Press!

About us

Oxford University Press (OUP) publishes the highest quality journals and delivers this research to the widest possible audience. Oxford University Press is a department of the University of Oxford. It furthers the University's objective of excellence in research, scholarship and education by publishing worldwide. We achieve this by working closely with our society partners, authors, and subscribers in order to provide them with publishing services that support their research needs.

Part of the academic community

Oxford University Press prides itself on being both a part of and a partner in the academic community. A department of the University of Oxford, OUP draws on a prestigious research heritage and a deep understanding of the wants and needs of researchers and academics. As a member of the academic community, we understand and can address the needs of our publishing partners in a way that no profit-driven publisher can.

Quality

An integral part of our scholarly mission is to publish journals of the highest quality with the greatest impact, presenting innovative research that furthers future advances.

OUP has the highest percentage of journals in the top 10% by impact factor and the lowest percentage of journals in the bottom 50% among publishers with over 100 journals in ISI Impact Factor ranking. Our journals offer excellent value and are available and read around the world. We do not have a long tail of low quality/low use titles; every one of the journals we publish is highly valued by its community, and our brand is trusted to deliver the very best content worldwide.

We work closely with the international library community to make our journals collections a realistic option for institutions of all sizes and budgets. We maintain our renewals and secure new business in even the toughest markets, thanks to our reputation for top-quality content, flexible business models, superb pre- and post-sale customer support, and fair pricing policies.

Continuous evolution

Oxford University Press has continually grown with technology advances to ensure researchers can access the latest content in the most convenient format. With over 100 years of experience producing authoritative journals, we are constantly evolving our publishing to increase the usage and discoverability of our content.

Our journals average three million article downloads per month, with access coming from nearly every country in the world, including the 78 countries in which we have agreements with library consortia.

We embrace new technologies and formats to effectively provide content in intuitive ways for the research and professional community. All our journals are mobile optimized.

We are pleased to submit our renewal proposal for OUP Policy Collection for the calendar year 2024. Effectively from 2024, the journal Health Policy and Planning have moved to open access and International Journal of Epidemiology is only online.

Subject: Elsevier ScienceDirect - Journals 2024 Renewal Reminder - International Institute for Population Sciences - ECR-412627

Dear Patron,

Greetings from Elsevier!

This is to notify that your ScienceDirect - Journals renewal subscription with Elsevier is due for renewal. Your current subscription term through Agreement# 1-21583174750 from 01 January 2023 will expire on 31 December 2023.

As we reflect on the experiences of the past year, we recognize the challenges and delays that impacted the renewal processes and decisions, causing disruptions to the overall subscription cycle. Considering the ongoing uncertainties related to the One Nation One Subscription (ONOS) initiatives, we would like to propose the following options to enhance the efficiency and promptness of the renewal process for the year 2024.

- Initiating a Dialogue: Kindly respond to this email or suggest a suitable time for a call. This will allow us to engage in a conversation and collaboratively address any concerns you may have.
- Earlier Notification: Providing us with an early heads-up would enable us to support your renewal requirements promptly. This proactive approach will aid in concluding your renewal before the 31 December 2023, ensuring uninterrupted access to your users at a fair value.

This email comes to you as a reminder to ensure that you get adequate time to process the renewal and take necessary approvals at your end.

Please confirm via reply email if you would be continuing your subscription to ScienceDirect - Journals by two weeks of time from this email.

To ensure the accuracy of our invoice,

- Please confirm or update the billing and shipping information as it appears below.
- Kindly confirm us with your organization's GSTIN number.
- And lastly, a Purchase order number if you require for us to indicate this in our invoice.
