OVERVIEW OF THE MEETING

Activity	Time
Dr. Aparajita Chattopadhyay and Dr. Manas Pradhan (the placement cell coordinators) formally welcomed our guest speaker Dr. Sushanta K. Banerjee- Chief Technical Officer, IPAS Development Foundation, by giving insights into his professional journey in the field of Population Sciences.	17:08 -17:13
Talk by Dr. Sushanta K. Banerjee Dr. Banerjee guided the students by imagining himself to be one of the IIPSian and educating them with the preparations required for working in the industry. His discussion focused on three essential things, knowing about the industry that can accommodate us, understanding the new era of competition, and preparedness for the same. The vital message laid out was that one should never stop learning and utilize his/her talents in the best possible ways. To improve, we should engage strategically in analysing the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats associated. The students at IIPS possess some excellent skills, including their logical and analytical thinking, along with knowledge of statistical software that can help them outshine in an industry. But at the same time, IIPSians should revamp their presentation and communication skills, develop some good management skills, or be encouraged to do qualitative research to be more prepared for the job sector. Improving the communication and writing skills and interview preparation are basic needs for getting placed. While facing an interview, it is essential to know about the organization and thoroughly reading the job description followed by confidently delivering your views. Later, IIPS students' opportunities to explore various sectors, including demography, clinical research, corporate, demand forecasting, insurance &amp; health policy, and political &amp; media analysis, etc., were also discussed.	17:13-17:35 &amp; 17:36-18:05
